Star Wars Bounty Hunter Assault Gunship 7930

The Lego Star Wars Gunship is the latest in the lego star wars range, the model has many never seen before pieces and colors, the kit contains some 389 pieces and is suitable for age ranges 8-14, but I think I had as much fun as my son with this one

Four figures are included with this set and the doors of the gunship open for the figures to fit inside but it has to be said that not all of the figures fit in at the same time and it is quite tight to get them in,

The Lego Star Wars Gunship is fairly easy to construct, the rockets swivel to switch from flight mode to landing mode and the forward and rear cannons are movable,

the all new figures include

Sugi

This sassy little figure has some great detail on her head, with horns printed on her face. The torso shows a red vest and accompanied by grey pants. She is toting a knife and gun, and is new to the scene.

Assassin Droid

If you have owned any previous ones, then this ones is going to be much the same. Including rifle.

Embo

This hunter has Printing on his hat, which is a round Lego piece; on his face, showing a mask; great detail on his torso, showing a breast plate and ammo; and once again printing on his pants. He carries a crossbow.

Out of all the mini figures in this set - he is by far my favorite because of his detail, and probably one that is going to be the most valuable because of that reason.

Aurra Sing

This hunter has unique hair. There are not many minifigures you see with a top knot. The printing on her face is the normal, depicting feminine eyes and mouth. Her torso shows a orange vest with ammo and knife pouches.

Her legs have nice detail showing gun straps for the two guns in her hands.
