Air Hogs Zero Gravity Nano

The Zero Gravity Nano Car is the nano sized version of the original zero gravity micro, the first ever vehicle of its kind capable of climbing walls. It will climb any vertical surface due to its revolutionary internal motor creating air pocketets which create a downforce to hold the car down on any smooth surface.

When the Zero Gravity Nano reaches a 45-degree angle, the built in powerful internal fans start to work and draw air under the car to create suction, this enables the car to climb vertical surfaces with ease. included in each pack are one zero gravity Nano car, one charger and instruction sheet

The first of its kind in Indoor racing The Zero Gravity Nano racer is a full-function R/C car that races up walls as easily as it speeds across the floor, ceiling's are also abreeze due to the powerfull suction created by the fans,

The cars race right-side up, upside-down, Working headlights also act as charge level indicators, so you know when it's time to recharge ready for more action,
